

DONEGAL TRIP - SLIEVE LEAGUE early/mid JUNE EXPRESSION OF INTEREST

It is proposed to have a short 2 night (or possibly 3 night) walking trip in Donegal staying at Killybegs. This would be midweek in early/ mid June. The key aim is to walk Slieve League which has the highest sea cliffs in Europe (607 metres at their highest point). It is some years since the Club did this walk.

The aim would be to stay at the Bay View Hotel in Killybegs which is a good base for setting out for Slieve League. The current price in June for 2 nights B&B in a twin room (single bed plus double bed) is £131 working out at just under £33 per person per night. The intention would be for folk to book direct with the hotel (the above prices were accessed via trip advisor and Expedia and allow for cancellation up to 2 days beforehand).

I am keen to gauge interest and also see if people would prefer to stay for a further night in which case we would plan in a further full day's walking. I have also made this a mid-week trip and wanting to check if folk are generally happy with this. Again any preferences for June dates (if any).

Can I ask for expressions of interest (plus any comments) within the next week or so but no later than Friday the 28th as there will be a need for folk to book accommodation promptly.
